

SIDEWALKS ARE FOR PEOPLE!

Celebrate SF's public space and vibrant culture

SATURDAY
APRIL 24
ALL-DAY
CITYWIDE

JOIN EVENTS ACROSS
THE CITY OR JUST HAVE FUN ON THE NEAREST SIDEWALK!

San Francisco's mayor and police chief are pushing for a law that would make it illegal to sit or lie on the sidewalk anywhere in the city. We think it's an awful idea to criminalize the harmless act of sitting in public space.

We are responding by celebrating San Francisco's public space, it's diverse and vibrant culture, and its tradition of tolerance and compassion.

On April 24, people all over San Francisco will be doing what they love on the city's sidewalks and they will be inviting family, friends, and neighbors to join them.

What can you do for SIDEWALKS ARE FOR PEOPLE? Anything! Play music, barbecue, yoga, lemonade stand, read, relax, art, sidewalk sale, talk, sunbathe, knit, play chess, meditate, tai chi, eat, dance, paint, write, sing, DJ, play drums, sit -- Anything!

Find planned events throughout the city and add your own event to the interactive map at www.StandAgainstSitLie.org

We can provide you with signs and flyers. Take pictures of your event for the website!
